In June 2024, the Australian Government announced a grant round to fund community-based self-advocacy and peer support programs. This Peer Support and Capacity Building grant round has now closed.

Thank you to everyone who has shown interest in the Peer Support and Capacity Building grant round.

We are working to assess all applications as quickly as possible.

We will contact applicants regarding the outcome of their submission in coming weeks.

More information

This is a one-off grant round delivered by the NDIA, providing up to $40 million over two years with a possible extension of $20 million for one year.

Community-based, disability-led organisations that run existing peer support and self-advocacy programs were eligible to apply.

The NDIA recognises the crucial role these organisations play in the disability ecosystem, helping people with disability to connect with others who have shared similar experiences and build their self-advocacy skills.
