The National Disability Insurance Agency invites all providers to join an information session on the 2024-25 Annual Pricing Review (APR).

Each year, the NDIA undertakes a comprehensive Annual Pricing Review (APR). A key output is an updated Pricing Arrangements and Price Limits (the PAPL) and supplementary pricing addenda - Pricing arrangements . The pricing changes are effective 1 July.

In these sessions we will deliver an overview of the key changes that may impact providers delivering direct services – including support coordinators and recovery coaches.

The intent of these sessions is to share information with providers; there will not be a Q and A component. Providers will be able to submit questions which we will review against external content available to support providers.

Additional information:

- Sessions are delivered via video-conference using Microsoft Teams, and are offered over multiple dates to allow flexibility for attendees
- Each session covers the same content
