18 July 2018

The workforce delivering frontline National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) services has increased by 10.5 per cent, creating new jobs and providing improved support to Australians with disability.

More than 2,300 jobs have been created to deliver the NDIS in local communities across Australia.

Social Services Minister Dan Tehan said the NDIS Partners in the Community (PITC) program was creating jobs within experienced and qualified organisations in local communities that were delivering essential services.

Related articles

$72 million for frontline NDIS services in South Australia

Date
21 January 2018

Government announces improved NDIS mental health support

Date
10 October 2018

NDIS supporting local jobs and better outcomes for people with disability in Tennant Creek

Date
9 October 2015

Read more news