Overview

We have started our Long form outcomes survey data collection for 2022. Australian Healthcare Associates (AHA) will be contacting participants, their families and carers between 26 September 2022 and 16 December 2022 to ask them questions about different areas of their lives.

Participating in the Long form outcomes survey is voluntary.

We use the survey results to help identify the types of supports that lead to good outcomes for participants and to improve the NDIS.

You can find out more about the data we collect in the Reports and analyses section of the NDIS Data and Insights website.

Next steps

At the end of each year, we publish high level results of our Long form outcomes survey in our annual Outcomes Report .
