26 February 2018

We sent NDIS staff member Meg along to the Australian Deaf Games in Albury to talk to athletes competing at the games.

Meg is a native Auslan speaker and a great netballer too - she's even competed at the Deaf Games!

We've made this short video in Auslan to share the passion and excitement of the games with the Deaf community.

If you don't speak Auslan, make sure you turn the captions on.

Watch the video or read the transcript (external HTML 2KB)

Participating in sport is a great way to keep fit and make new friends. If you'd like to know more about playing Deaf sports – take a look at the websites below:

- Australian Deaf Games (external)
- Deaf Sports Australia (external)

Related articles

Radio National interview with Vicki Rundle - Transcript

Date
15 January 2018

Webinar to explain about the Vision Australia National Library and the assistive technologies it offers

Date
18 April 2018

New video celebrates advances in disability rights

Date
2 December 2016
Read more news