

Existing NDIS participants in Tasmania will transfer to the new computer system when:

- Their plan reaches its reassessment date
- They need changes to their plan
- They are leaving the NDIS.

If you are an existing participant, you don't have to do anything to transfer to our new computer system.

To develop your next plan, your my NDIS contact and NDIA planner will work with you to do a plan reassessment. We used to call plan reassessments plan reviews.

Your new plan will be based on your current plan budget.

As part of the plan reassessment process, you will be able to meet with the NDIA planner who approves your plan.

Your planner will talk with you about your living situation, goals and day-to-day supports to check they have a good understanding of your situation to make sure the supports in your plan fit together and explain the decisions they've made.

Learn more about plan variations and plan reassessments

- Changing your NDIS plan \(DOCX 229 KB\)

You can watch the below video to learn more.

Transcript for 'Transcript - Improvements to the NDIS for existing participants.docx'

This page current as of 14 August 2023